WASHINGTON.

Indian Affairs---Appearances not Favorable to an Early Settlement---The Cyclone---Indians Undecided.

WASHINGTON, September 29.—The Indian Council yesterday indicated a determination on the part of the Government that the Indians shall come to the Missouri river this winter, with the promise that their lands shall be surveyed, and they may select their homes next year. It appears from the President's speech that the adherents of Crazy Horse and Lame Deer have gone north, and the President intimates that it is necessary at present to herd friendly Indians with a view to a fierce war against the hostiles, which term includes all who are not under the control of agents. Stores for the Indians have been sent to the Missouri river and the Indians have the alternative of going to their stores or going without them. The Indians seem apprehensive if they leave their homes for the Missouri river that they will not be allowed to go back. The indications are not favorable to an early termination of the Indian troubles.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The Cyclone noticed yesterday near Wilmington has moved slightly to the North, and is now central in Virginia. Cautionary signals continue from Smithville north.

The further conference with the Indian delegations which was to have been held this morning at the Executive mansion has been postponed until Monday. The Indians have not yet agreed on their response to the President and will hold another council on the subject. They cannot yet reconcile themselves to a removal from their present locations and are much depressed by the policy of the government as yesterday expressed by the President.

Mexican Border Affairs--Illness of Archbishop Bayley.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A San Antonio dispatch of yesterday says: "Lieut. Bullis, has gone over into Mexico and struck the Indians and Mexicans at Zaragossa, not far from where Mackenzie attacked them. Particulars cannot be obtained from headquarters, but it is believed that Lieut. Bullis has taken the town of Zaragossa. He has one hundred men with him.

The general belief is that he went over after horses that the Kickapoos stole from the Lipans, who had stolen them from Texas.

Gen. Ord, returns to-morrow from a visit to Gov. Hubbard, of Texas.

The Most Rev. Archbishop James Roosevelt Bailey, Primate of America, was in a critical condition at the Cathedral residence at Newark, N. J., last night and his death was feared at any moment.

LATER.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 29.—Archbishop Bayley is a little better this morning.

Trouble with a Priest at White Earth.

CHICAGO, September 29.—A St. Paul special says, owing to Indian Superintendent Kimball having ordered Father Tonisein, Catholic missionary, to leave White Earth on account of violation of the agency rules, the Priest took refuge in the church and rung the bell to summon Indians friendly to him, and with them is now holding the church in armed resistance to the authority of Kimball. The Indians are considerably excited, and consequently Kimball telegraphed to Fort Snelling for aid. The Indians are not aggressive, but watchful and suspicious. They have other minor grievances which will probably necessitate troops remaining in the vicinity of White Earth for some time.

Steamships for Europe--Italian Killed Over a Game of Cards.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Nine steamships sail for Europe to-day, taking about 40,000 bushels of grain, besides large quantities of cheese, butter, cotton, lard, oysters, flour, hops, beef, canned goods, horses, cattle and a full list of passengers.

Luigi Percola was stabbed and killed last night in a Rosevelt saloon by Pacco Pallato during a fight which originated from a game of cards. Both were Italians. Pallato, who was also badly stabbed, was arrested.

EASTERN AFFAIRS.

Surgeons to Russian Headquarters.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—News' Berlin correspondent says that a party of military surgeons on special leave departed yesterday for the Russian headquarters. They belong to some of the best regiments in the German army.

A Broker Broke.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Chas. L. Woodman, prominent broker has failed, liabilities $100,000, assets encumbered with real estate.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

Tweed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Tweed's examination before the aldermanic investigating committee was resumed. Witness testified, as already mentioned, that he paid money for passage of tax levy to Senators Graham, Brand, Woodin, &c. He paid each of them to vote for some bills that year, and he thought it was for voting for that tax levy.

Regarding the election of 1868, the witness said: That year was the great year of naturalizations. John A. Grisworld was a candidate, and Tweed had control of the political machinery—that is the inspection of elections. He remembered closing of that election. Most all the notabilities of the Democratic party were with him that evening at Metropolitan Hotel Hall. Sweeney and himself caused a telegram to be sent out during the day for the purpose of keeping the telegraph wires going so as to prevent the counties throughout the State from knowing what they were doing in the city. The witness did not think there was ever an honest election in New York. The result of the aggregate votes in the city and county in the year 1868 was probably caused by inspectors of election, and not by voters; and we took means to effect that result. One suggestion was to, if necessary, telegraph the whole bill all over the State, especially in Lawrence county, where they were beating us three to one; as we believed, in order to keep the wires going, and the outside from knowing how we were getting on in New York.

Mr. Townsend thought the line of examination had wandered away from the directions of the resolution under which the investigation was ordered; they were drifting into political matters.

Mr. Cole said the object was to find out who had received money either through tax levy or other means, as they could be sued and money recovered.

The committee then adjourned until Saturday next.

EASTERN AFFAIRS.

LONDON, September 29.—The Times, though it strongly sympathises with Russia, prints the following under a prominent heading "Prudent Generosity":

THERAPIA, September 28.

"It is said that the Turkish soldiers have received strict orders not to fire at any Russian General lest he should be killed or disabled and replaced."

A Bucharest special to the Times says: "The tremendous number of wounded from Plevna, has over crowded the Russian hospitals, and much suffering is experienced by the wounded in the transit to Russia in consequence of insufficient accommodation and of the deficiency of surgeons and dressers.

Financial Matters.

WASHINGTON, September 29.—The amount of bank notes issued is 1,326,540 dollars, making it necessary to retire under the law United States notes to the amount of 10,612,32 dollars. The Secretary of the Treasury has determined not to sell gold this month, as has heretofore been done to meet their liability, but to retire the United States notes from the current balance in the treasury, which is ample for that purpose.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, September 29.—Ex-Indian Commissioner Smith goes to Ohio to take part in the political campaign. He will depart for his Canada Consulate in November. What will professor Langston, Minister to Hayti say to this.

Probabilities.

For the South Atlantic States, northerly winds, clear or partly cloudly weather except light rain in North Carolina. Stationary temperature and pressure for the Gulf States, with light and variable winds from the southeast, clear and partly cloudy weather and stationary pressure and temperature.

Bank Statement.

NEW YORK, September 29.—Loans decrease 2½ millions; specie decrease 2½ millions; legal tenders decrease ½ million; deposits decrease 6 millions; reserve decrease 1½ millions.

Another Horse Trade.

(Blue Ridge Blade.)

Our gay livery stable man, who, like most men in that business, thinks he knows all about horses, picked up a sewing machine fellow the other day, who was driving a large bay horse. As the stranger did not know much about horses, our man gave him a better horse and $45 for the one he was driving. Our man, after sleeping on it, and trying the old wind broken steed he got, concluded he had been too liberal, and would follow the stranger with a view of re-exchanging. The stranger took the road for Buncome Court-house, and the pursuers (the livery man got a friend to go with him) followed about two miles behind, but it seemed, after following for sixty miles, that those two were as good as a thousand, for all practical purposes.

Seven miles above here the respective racers passed making fair time, though the hinder party's horse was making a noise like one of the old Raleigh and Gaston engines. At Marion, finding they were not gaining much, the pursuing party applied to the city authorities for a section of artillery and a mule. The former was to shell the woods, lest, when they got up speed, they should pass him on the wayside. But as Marion did not have a field piece, they took the mule, and rushed madly on. When they entered the "land of the sky," they found that the object of their pursuit was two miles ahead. Then sadly they turned their faces towards the rising sun, knowing there was no use for a Burke man to go further.

Greatness in a Hovel.

(From the London Times.)

Gorny Studen is a wretched village of a few hundred inhabitants, the Turkish quarter being on one hill and the Bulgarian on the opposite height. The former is deserted by its proprietors and the houses have been unroofed by soldiers to get at the wooden rafters, fuel being scarce in northern Bulgaria. The only building remaining in this part of the village is occupied by the Emperor of All the Russias. It is built of unburnt clay bricks, and its low roof covered with rough tiles. Here in this hovel the autocrat passes his days and nights, anxiously awaiting news from his various armies in the field. There is no pomp surrounding this humble Imperial residence; two Circassians of the Guard, with drawn sabres, were, when I first saw it, all that stood between the Czar and the outside world. A short distance from the house is a large tent, where the Emperor dines at six with his staff and invited guests. On the opposite side of the little street or road is the tent of General Ignatieff.

A Great Farmer's Maxim.

The successful life of Mr. Jacob Strawn, the prince of American farmers, is attributed to the close observation of the following maxim, originated by himself:

Make your fences high and strong, so that it will keep cattle and pigs out. If you have brush make your lots secure, and keep the hogs from the corn.

Be sure to get your hands to bed by seven o'clock—they will rise early by force of circumstances.

Pay a hand, if he is a poor hand, all you promise him; if he is a good one pay him a little more; it will encourage him to do still better.

Always feed your hands as well as you feed yourselves, for the laboring men are the bone and sinew of the land and ought to be well treated.

I am satisfied that getting up early, industry and regular habits are the best medicines ever prescribed for health.

When rainy, bad weather comes so that you can't work out doors, cut, split and haul your wood, make your racks, fix your fence or gate, and patch the roof of your barn or house.

Study your own interest closely and do not spend your time in electing Presidents, Governors and other smaller offiers, or talk of hard times and spend your time in whittling store boxes.

Take your time, and make calculations; do things in a hurry, but do them at the proper time, and keet your mind as your body employed.

Hard to Please Everybody.

(From the Richmond Enquirer.)

These are the times that try Rutherford's soul. At Lynchburg he received his Northern mail. Opening the Boston Advertiser, he read:

"Well done, and stick to the work"

The New York Commercial:

"Come home; you are making an ass of yourself."

The Utica Herald:

"Carry the olive branch to the evergreen glades of Florida, Mr. President."

The Burlington Hawk-Eye:

"Hayes might as well parade in a rebel uniform and be done with it."

After reading which the de facto sits down and writes another chapter in his forthcoming book entitled: "Between Two Fires."

GRAND EXCURSION OVER THE RALEIGH & AUGUSTA AIR LINE RAILROAD, FROM HAMLET TO RALEIGH.

South Carolina and North Carolina Meet--One Thousand Excursionists.

The first passenger train over the R. & A. A. L. R. R., left Raleigh Friday morning, arriving at Hamlet, at six o'clock in the evening. Capt. Wren was the first conductor and Mr. Flemming the first engineer, who ran a through train over the road. On arriving at Hamlet (the Junction with the C. C. R. R.,) we found a number of people from South Carolina already there, ready for the excursion on tomorrow. At yesterday morning people were coming from all directions; the sand hills were pouring out the people. The question was where did they come from? On mixing with the crowd, the NEWS man found fifty from the lower portion of Richmond county, North Carolina, and Marlboro county, South Carolina. At Hamlet one hundred and fifty tickets were sold, which was at least fifty more than were expected. Many of these excursionists never had been to Raleigh and numerous questions were asked where they could buy calico, clothing, boots and shoes, &c. They were referred to the columns of the NEWS, and many a dollar was taken in by those who advertise through the NEWS.

At Hoffman the crowd was increased by over fifty. At Keyser one hundred joined the excursion. At Blue's fifty were waiting. At Manly the woods were full and one hundred were added to the now well filled train. At two cross roads crowds were waiting, so that when we arrived at Manly 519 was the number. Capt. Horton, the conductor, was now at his wits end to know what to do with the crowd at Cameron and Sandford, but like a New York omnibus, there was room for more, and packing commenced. Three on a seat, and one in the middle, the isles full and the platforms crowded. Arriving at Cameron two hundred were waiting, making about eight hundred anxious for Raleigh. Two coaches were added to the long train, making 12 in all, and yet everything was crowded. The crowd surged through the long line of cars, looking for that which was not to be had—a seat. At Cameron Maj. Winder, the Superintendent, was on the platform of the officers' car viewing the loaded train as it passed. There is no question but this line of railroad will add largely to the trade of Raleigh. As a through freight line to Norfolk, Baltimore and New York, it will be a success. I already hear of 500 bales of cotton that will be shipped next week via this line, at present a fast freight train.

SIXTEEN HOURS FROM HAMLET TO NORFOLK,

will be put on, and no doubt soon there will be a fast passenger train, from Charlotte to Norfolk. I met at Hamlet a representative of a large Norfolk Cotton house, who said he was meeting with success, and that a good deal of cotton would be shipped this way to Norfolk. I mention this to show, the necessity of our Raleigh merchants looking after this trade.

At 10 o'clock we arrived at Sanford. Here we met the Fayetteville train, a number of excursionists and also took on two more coaches, making 14 in all. Although these two coaches were filled before they were attached to the train, there was no apparent lessening of the crowd in the other coaches, and packing was still in order. A goodly number was added at the other stations between Sanford and Raleigh, until there were fully a thousand people that came to Raleigh on the excursion. The crowd on the train were jubilant and well pleased, excellent feeling prevailing throughout the number. Nothing occurred during the trip from Hamlet to Raleigh to mar the pleasure of the trip. The only accident was the losing of a hat out of the window, but as there were plenty in Raleigh anxious to sell cheap it could be easily replaced. It was a gala day for the residents along the line, and a fine opportunity which the people have taken to view the Capitol, many of them never having been to Raleigh before.

Danville (Va.) Times: There is a man living near the railroad in Orange county, Va., who belonged to a Florida regiment during the war. He was wounded in one of the numerous battles fought in that portion of Virginia. The surgeon told him he could never recover the use of his leg. "Then," said he, "I shall never leave this battle-field." And he has kept his word. His tobacco lot was pointed out to us, and we were informed that he has a little factory where he makes chewing and smoking tobacco. Strange fancy in him to spend his life on the battle-field where he lost his leg.

The coopers of Richmond, Va., are on a strike. The Dispatch says: Mr. Fairbanks, one of the largest barrel-manufacturers in the city, has brought here a considerable number of hands from Georgetown, but they have not yet gone to work, and desire not to do so until the strikers take further action. The prices demanded by the strikers are as follows: Farmers' dress-barrels, twelve hoops, 20 cents; machine-staves, rough head, 15 cents; turn heads, 12½ cents. The old prices were 10, 12½, and 16⅔ cents. There are about one hundred and fifty coopers in the city, and their suspension of work is quite an important matter.

Figs thrive almost as well in some of our Southern States as in Turkey, but we have never heard of an effort being made to dry them and make them an article of commerce. The process of drying the fruit is simple. It is dipped into hot lye made from the ashes of the fig tree, and afterwards dried in the sun or in furnaces constructed for the purpose. After this process they are pressed into drums and boxes. No sugar is used in preparing them, as some persons suppose.—Rural Messenger.

Grapes are so plentiful and cheap in California this year that they are used by farmers in preference to grain for fattening hogs. Grapes thus converted into pork, it is claimed will realize to the producer $10 per ton. with no expense for boxing and shipping.

Milton Chronicle: The Louisville Courier-Journal, a staunch democratic paper, says it will throw up its cap for Hayes as long as he does right, taking care in the meantime to vote the democratic ticket. That is exactly our hand.

"Eminently Readable,"

[Central Protestant.]

The DAILY NEWS, Raleigh, N. C., has been enlarged and is now a 32 column paper. The NEWS is one of our exchanges which we take pleasure in reading, because it is eminently readable. Hereafter it will contain more matter than heretofore, and will be additionally valuable.

AN OHIO TRAGEDY.

A Husband and Wife Found Dead in Each Other's Arms.

(Special Dispatch to the Philadelphia Times.)

PITTSBURG, September 26.

A tragedy enacted at Zanesville, Ohio, yesterday, creates intense excitement in that place, the death of man and wife, one murdered by the other, and the suicide of the murderer or murderess, being the groundwork of the tragedy. The particulars are as follows: Abner James was an undertaker in Zanesville, his office being on Ninth street. He and his wife did not live happily together, although they had been married but fourteen months. Recently business troubles have added to the unhappiness of the couple and a separation was looked for. Yesterday their disagreements reached a climax and Mrs. James left home, vowing she would never live with James again. She started for the residence of her mother, Mrs. Lacock, a widow, about eight miles from the city, and was followed by her husband. They left the city together in the same train on the C. and M. V. R. R. They got off at Delcarbe and started to walk together to Mrs. Lacock's. When last seen alive they were walking together and apparently in an excited condition. They were walking up the lane leading from the public road toward the house, but they never reached there. This morning about 8 o'clock the bodies of both were found lying in a fence corner, about 300 yards from the house. The husband had a bullet hole in his breast, and the wife one in the temple and another in the region of the heart. They were tightly locked in each other's arms, and in the left hand of the wife, held as in a vise, was a revolver, with which it is supposed the dreadful deed was done. How they came to their death is, in a measure, a mystery, as no one saw the fearful tragedy enacted. The supposition is, however, that the wife first shot the husband, and then put the two bullets into her own body before death came. There was no indication of any struggle, and it is supposed that it was a plan mutually agreed upon to put a final quietus upon all their earthly sorrows.

Shooting Affair in Madison--W. Y. Davis Killed, Noah Rice Wounded.

(Asheville Citizen.)

A fatal shooting affray occurred on Bull Creek, Madison county, on last Saturpay, resulting in the death of W. Y. Davis and the serious wounding of N. H. Rice. The particulars are as follows: Davis has long been a fugitive from justice for the murder of Ben Inman, for which he had been tried at the Spring term of the Superior Court at Marshall and convicted. He was then taken to Waynesville jail for safe keeping, but broke jail and returned to Madison and for some time past has been prowling around his former home. A reward having been offered for his apprehension, Rice, hearing of his whereabouts, determined to arrest him. His friends tried to persuade him not to attempt to capture Davis by himself, but he being a resolute man declined all offers of assistance, saying that he "could arrest him easily by himself." Hearing that Davis would meet one of his friends at a certain point, he came upon him unawares, and commanded him to surrender, which Davis declined to do and ran. Rice pursued, [illegible] then ran and caught Davis, when the the latter shot him, the ball hitting him under the shoulder and giving a danerous wound. The doctors say that with proper treatment he may recover. The coroner summoned a jury and held an inquest over the body of Davis.

An Answered Prayer.

A letter to the Baltimore American in regard to the Lawson murder and the execution of Shifflett, says: One singular thing connected with this murder is worthy of mention. At the funeral of Lawson the officiating minister prayed that "God would blight the trees from the spot where Lawson was assassinated to the murderer's home," and it may sound strange, yet it is true, the trees from where his body was found in the direction of Shifflett's house are all blighted and dying, whilst all the other trees around are perfectly healthy. This story has been circulation here for some time believed by a few, but doubted and made fun of by the many. Last Sunday several gentlemen representing city dailies, who had arrived to "do" the execution, visited the spot and found it an actual fact.

THE FREAKS OF FASHION.

Notes from Shop and Boudoir--The Latest Novelties in Styles and Goods.

The retention of the princesse style enables ladies to make over their old dresses.

The cuirass polonaise is one of the simple and comfortable models offered for early fall and winter wear in the house and street.

There is but little change in the designs of dress, the princesse style remaining the foundation upon which many caprices are displayed.

Oddly blended colors, like the rich and irregular hues seen on the wrong side of India shawls or the right side of Turkish rugs, are much in vogue.

Short skirts for walking dresses are the sensation of the hour, and the best French modistes are giving special attention to the designing of short suits that will be sufficiently dressy for city wear.

There are so many comparisons between long basques and polonaises, that in first examining a new costume it is difficult to say whether it is a basque with overskirt or a polonaise. It generally proves to be a princesse costume.

A great many materials are imported for dress trimmings, to be cut up in side gores, panels, pockets, vests and collars, and these dresses dispense with all galloons, pipings and fringes. These trimming stuffs resemble chenille and plush.

Sailor-blue wool princesse dresses for children are sold at furnishing houses for $3.50 for the smaller sizes, such as are worn by children two years of age. The gravest brown, olive and moss green shades are made up in similar fashion.

A novelty for ladies' over-dresses is called French cord, and so closely resembles the corduroy worn by gentlemen that it will probably be known as corduroy, notwithstanding the protest of merchants agaist so fine a stuff having so common a title.

The newest importations for bridal outfits show robes de chambre in princesse or Breton shape of pale blue camel's-hair, with stripes of palm leaves in cashmere colors, or else cream grounds with dark blue cashmere stripes, or the reverse for darker wrappers.

Among the colors most seen in French cord are various shades of moss green, olive and bronze. As these hues are not becoming to all, there are blue, brown and black grounds brightened by knots, threads, dots, and dashes of bright scarlet, cardinal, pale sky blue, old gold and the vivid imperial yellow.

Corsages take the most varied habit shapes, even in princesse dresses. All the plastrons, Breton vests, revers and fichu ornaments are seen again, and but one thing seems obligatory, which is, that the trimming shall be as flat as possible, and add nothing to the apparent size of the most slender figure.

Bias silk folds in long perpendicular clusters are added to the back and front of plain basques to give the appearance of a pleated basque. One Frenchy touch in such dresses is to have a ribbon belt and bow with ends crossing these pleats back and front, but stopping there instead of passing around the waist entirely.

Some of the most elegant of the new wool fabrics cost $6 a yard, but they may be found in less elaborate colors and of lighter weight as low as $1 a yard. The double-fold stuffs, measuring forty-six or forty-eight inches in width, are most largely imported, and are most serviceable in cutting costumes of the present style.

The fabrics hitherto known as bourettes have increased in number and name, and merchants are fast making familiar such titles as Plevna imperials, Servian cloth, Turkish wool, neigeuse, pontille, jongleur, and chenille or plush cloth. These are all wool or else partly silk, with knots, gnarled ends, loose fleece, or else mere dots or flakes of color on very dark grounds. The solid drabs, browns and grays of last year's costumes are seldom seen.

It gives me pleasure to announce that I can offer to an impartial public, goods at prices that have never yet been eclipsed in the city of Raleigh My stock is the largest I have ever had—and I can assure my friends that I can satisfy them in all things in my line, as to quality, quantity and price. Live and let live. A. CREECH. *

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Lumsden is selling Cotton Balances, already sealed; and sells the "Old North State Cook Stove" cheap and warranted. Dog collars, Little Harry Night Lamps, and wooden ware of all kinds. Makes a specialty of repairing copper stills and worms, sewing machines, guns, locks, &c.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 40,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your Druggist obout it. Sample Bottles to try sold at 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by all first-class Druggists in the United States. *

What Every Body Says Must be True.

The incontrovertible testimony offered by those who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription induced the doctor to sell it under a positive guarantee. Many ladies have refrained from using it on account of a general feeling of prejudice against advertised medicines. Let me ask a question. Are you prejudiced against sewing machines because you have seen them advertised? or can you doubt the skill and ingenuity required in their invention? Again, would you refuse to insure your house because the company advertised that it had paid millions in losses, and yet had a capital of several millions? Do such advertisements shake your confidence, and create prejudices? Then why refuse to credit the testimony of those who have found the Favorite Prescription to be all that is claimed for it in overcoming those ailments peculiar to your sex? Why submit to the use of harsh and perhaps caustic treatment, thus aggravating your malady, when relief is guaranteed, and a positive, perfect, and permanent cure has been effected in thousands of cases?

WABASH STATION, ILL., Oct. 24, 1876.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—Allow me to extend my most sincere thanks to you for the great benefit my wife has received from the use of your Favorite Prescription. She suffered almost intolerably before using your medicine, and I had tried the skill of several physicians but to no purpose. Finally, I thought I would give the Favorite Prescription a trial, and she is now sound and well.

Very gratefully yours,
D. A. HUNTER.

MISCELLANEOUS.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA,
CHAPEL HILL, Sept. 2-, 1877.

To the Trustees, Alumni and friends of the University of North Carolina:

The increasing prosperity of the University has created a need for a medium through which its objects should be made known. To this end the two Literary Societies of the University have determined to re-establish the "University Magazine," once an ornament to the University and State.

It is proposed in publishing facts connected with the University to make the Magazine the organ through which the historical incidents of the State may be made known and perpetuated. At present there is in the State no periodical of this kind and the need for one is patent to all.

The contributors of the Magazine will be some of the most prominent and talented gentlemen and ladies of the State. The Societies have elected three editors each, and as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers are obtained the Magazine will be issued.

The price of the Magazine will be $2.50, IN ADVANCE, per year.

Trustees, Alumni and friends, the students of your University call upon you to contribute this small amount to the support of an enterprise, the ends of which are so beneficial.

Those who desire to aid us will please inform us immediately by letter or postal.

Address,
EDITORS UNIVERSITY MAGAZINE,
Chapel Hill, Orange Co., N. C.

State papers friendly to the enterprise will please copy.

SOUTHERN NEWS

Capt. James Iredell Waddell was in Mobile during the past week.

Eighty thousand cattle are to be shipped in one lot from Taylor, Texas.

An average of at least 500 tons of granite is shipped from Richmond to Philadelphia each week.

Washington and Lee University at Lexington, Va., opened last Thursday with a fair attendance of students.

The Governor has ordered out State troops to put down the threatened county-seat war in Van Zandt county, Texas.

A new Presbyterian Church in Portsmouth was dedicated on Wednesday night. Rev. John M. Rose, formerly of Fayetteville, is its pastor.

A Richmond, Va., Judge decided that a prisoner who had been sentenced to pay a fine to the State for a misdemeanor could not be discharged by offering to pay said fine in coupons of the bonded debt of the State. An appeal has been taken.

The Dahlonega (Ga.) Signal is enthusiastic over the gold region round about that place, and says: "We believe our gold fields are as rich as those of California. The more our veins are worked and developed the richer they become—the greater the yield of gold."

General John B. Gordon entered the Confederate service as Captain of the "Raccoon Roughs." Before taking the field for active duty, however, he was elected major of the Sixth Alabama regiment. He was elected in spite of his modest assertion "that he was no military man."

Nashville American: A gentleman from Virginia reports the existence of quite a formidable secret political society in the Shenandoah valley, possessing "Eli Bananas." It is understood to be a move in behalf of the repudiationists, and it is headed by the Hon. Peter Magill, a local politician of Rockingham county, and Maj. R. W. Hunter, of the Winchester Times. It is anti-Holliday, and Gen. Mahone has a "finger in the pie."

The report from Austin, Texas, to the effect that several regiments will be organized immediately for active service on the Rio Grande, and that Gen Ord has gone to Austin to consult with the Governor, refers entirely to the State militia, and does not imply that these troops are to be raised by the federal government, as seems to be understood. The War Department has no authority to organize new regiments, but the Govnor of Texas has power to organize the State militia.

A correspondent recently wrote to the Brandon (Miss.) Republican to know the difference between a Radical and an Independent. Here is the answer: "A Radical is a Republican politician who is not ashamed of the name, and an Independent is a Republican who is ashamed of the name, and who denies being a Radical when talking to Democrats, but admits it when talking to Republicans. In other words, an Independent is a cross between a mean Democrat and a mangy Republican, who can not be trusted by either."

STATE NEWS.

Caswell County Superior Court begins Monday.

The Star says the diptheria has broken out afresh in Wilmington.

Diptheria is proving fatal in many instances among the children in Burke county.

Mr. Calvin Barnes of Wilson lost a tobacco barn filled with newly cured tobacco by fire recently.

There will be a fruit, vegetable and farm product fair in Asheville on the 10th of October. Admission and entry free.

Mr. W. O. Allen, late of Wake Forest, N. C., has become a citizen of Asheville and joined the enterprising firm of Pleasant, Mills & Co.

Warrenton Gazette: The contract for the completion of the Warrenton R. R. has been awarded to a Mr. Blachelder, who begun work last Tuesday.

There are 897 licensed brandy distilleries in the 6th revenue district of this State, says the Statesville American, and about as many more not licensed.

The Raleigh Daily News gives another evidence of its prosperity by the addition of another column, which makes it the largest daily in the State.—Wilson Advance.

Milton Chronicle: All the iron for the Milton & Sutherlin N. G. Railroad has arrived at Sutherlin. The track is to be laid to the river in three weeks. The engine and cars will be ready the early part of October.

The Statesville American says, a gentleman of veracity informed us this week that he saw recently a chicken which was hatched with four perfect legs, all of which the chicken used when walking. But alas, it died when three weeks old.

Hendersonville Courier: On Monday last the hands of Messrs. Cannon, Johnson & Allen, contractors on the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad, learning that work had been commenced on the French Broad "struck" and wended their way to its classic banks. On their arrival they were pained to learn that Capt. Terrell did not require their invaluable services, and sadly turned their ebony countenances homeward. On Tuesday Messrs. Cannon & Co. had their quota on hand and were vigorously pushing their work.

Blue Ridge Blade: Billy Burton, colored, who has been subject to fits of melancholy and sometimes to madness, got up Wednesday morning at 3 o'clock and hung himself to a tree in the woods near by. When found the doctors said he had been dead two days.

Blue Ridge Blade: We were shown, last week, by Dr. J. M. Happoldt, of this place, a quilt under which General Washington slept. This quilt was made by Mrs. Sarah Reid, wife of Capt. John Reid, of Camden, S. C., in the year 1775, and Mrs. J. M. Happoldt is a granddaughter of Mrs Reid, into whose possession the quilt passed as a family relic. Capt. John Reid kept a public house at Camden, at which General Washington put up on his way to Charlotte, N. C., and during his stay was covered with this quilt. Capt. Reid fought in the battle at Ramsour's Mill, N. C., in 1812.

Charlotte Observer: Arrangements have been made for exhibiting at the State Fair a few specimens of gold taken from the rich deposit recently discovered in the Ellington mine in this county, concerning which we have frequently had occasion to remark. The sight of these specimens will do more to convince the people of the State and the public, generally of the richness of our mines than a whole book written about them. The specimens will be exhibited in a glass case, as the handling to which they would otherwise be subjected would detract greatly from their value as specimens. Mr. J. P. Long, of this city, will take them to the fair and exhibit them himself.

Governor Vance and his Administration.

We commend to the attention of our readers the following just and true remarks from the Pee Dee Herald:

We have regretted and yet regret to see attacks, which we conceive to be utterly unjust and unsupported by reason or facts, made upon Governor Vance and upon his official course during the few months which have passed of his executive term. That watchful, active and jealous scrutiny of his official acts, as seen by the gangrened eyes of defeated political partizans, should assail and pervert whatever he might do, was not unexpected. But that some of his own political household and faith should so readily join in the cry and give their aid in attempts to wrong and injure him is surprising and mortifying.

There must, surely, be some prime motive—some controlling influence at the bottom of this, which time and circumstance may yet develop.

We claim to know something of the history of the State; to know it somewhat thoroughly for at least twenty-five years past; and we do not hesitate to say that during that time—and most likely for a much longer time—no Governor of our State has had a more difficult task to perform than has had Gov. Vance.

After the fiercest and most exciting contest in the political annals of North Carolina, he came into office; the rebound from the thraldom of radicalism being so great that even the cool and calm results which dispassionate and thinking men expected seem small and disappointing; while the public mind seems to have looked for more than is in the power of mere man to perform. Hence, captious grumbling and groundless fault finding. And in this connection it may not be amiss to say that owing to the poverty of our people and to the many doleful and dreary days which had passed; during the carnival of corruption and fraud which had marked radical supremacy in our state; office-seeking, comparatively theretofore unknown amongst our people, became so common and general that many hungry er limited patronage which pertains to the Executive; of necessity, turned away disappointed. True, according to their respective representations and belief, each and every one had done more for the success of our ticket than "any other man," and it is easy to see that all consider themselves personally slighted who did not receive the appointments for which they asked. And whether an applicant for the position of brakesman on a railroad; guard for the penitentiary or for a directorship in any of the State institutions, the wrath of the disappointed one it seems must be vented upon the Governor's head.

Then the abuse of the pardoning power is charged upon him. There are, if we mistake not, near 2,000 convicts in the penitentiary, the county jails and work-houses; of these Gov. V. has pardoned or commuted not exceeding forty. [Gov. Brogden pardoned about that many during the last month of his administration.]

Of the reasons prompting the Governor to this exercise of clemency the people can, as yet, know but little; and when his reasons are submitted to the public, through the Legislature, it will be quite time enough to censure and blame him, if they are not ample and satisfactory. Indeed we are not sure if the evil, if evil it be, does not to a great extent rest with the people themselves. The getting up of a numerously signed petition for anything is a matter of too easy accomplishment. Men have signed petitions, as we have reason to know, for the pardon of convicts; and then have said that they did so from importunity; and that the Governor ought to pay no attention to them; that is that he ought to have the virtue which they confess they have not. Governor Vance, we are glad to know and say, is not insensible to the voice of humanity or of the people; he cannot know the motives and character of each and every one who approaches him; he must in such cases be, to a great extent governed by the appeals and statements made to him.

One Republican paper, the Raleigh Register, we are pleased to see, has the independence and honesty to do him justice in this respect; but still the querulous and silly notes of croaking sound. Even in the matter of freight tariffs on railroads, with which he has about as much to do as he has with the movements of the planets, he is blamed and censured by those who, from personal pique or selfishness, or who, in the interest of those who imagine it would be good for them to injure Governor Vance and destroy the esteem and honor in which the people of North Carolina hold him.

True, none of the complaints assail his integrity or patriotism; but they, from their injustice and frequency, must be disheartening to a public officer who is so earnestly trying to do right as we know he is. There is a captiousness about it which we condemn and deplore; instead of that forbearance towards our chief magistrate which our people should exhibit while upholding and sustaining him and strengthening his hand in all good works.

That the administration of affairs under Governor Vance's rule has been thus far successful—aye, brilliant and honorable, no man can deny. The long neglected agricultural interests, popular education, internal improvements, in truth all the great interests of the State have received a touch of vigor; have been "blessed with an awakening," and enlivened with a hope such as has not been felt in many years, if ever. Many good results are before us already, and the promise of the future is bright indeed. "Give the old man a chance." Let not his hands be hampered by overcaptiousness; by the clamor of disappointed "axe-grinders" or by the machinations and intrigues of those who envy his popularity, and who, for selfish purposes, would endeavor to cripple, hinder and harass every effort of his to honorably and illustriously serve his state. As intimated in the beginning of this article, some leading men and newspapers of our own party are, we humbly conceive, not blameless in this matter, though all the time making the loudest professions of fealty and friendship to the Governor; but we choose not to specify or particularize now. Enemies are expected to do these things; friends should not, while kissing the cheek, attempt to inflict the treacherous and mortal wound.

These ideas are thrown together hurriedly and unconnectedly; but they embody our views. And we believe they are just and true.

Volunteer Militia.

(Baltimore Sun)

The Springfield (Massachusetts) Republican suggests that each State and municipality have an "armed constabulary" like that of England instead of militia regiments, which are "citizens 360 days in the year and soldiers the other five." There is an "armed constabulary" in Ireland, but none in England that we are aware of, unless the well-disciplined volunteers of the country, who are relied upon to aid in resisting foreign invasion or repressing domestic violence, may be so considered. The police of London are drilled and officered like soldiers in the regular army, but they are not permitted to carry arms. Our main reliance, like that of England, must be upon a well-disciplined volunteer force and well-drilled police. If London, the richest city in the world, having a population of nearly three and a half millions, can be kept in order by such agencies, with the comparatively small standing army of Great Britain to fall back upon in time of need, (only between 8,000 and 9,000 soldiers being in the various barracks of the city,) how preposterous is it for American cities to be demanding large standing armies for their protection?

Senators Whose Terms Expire.

At the close of the present Congress in 1879 the terms of the following Senators will expire: Spencer, rep., Alabama; Dorsey, rep., Arkansas; Sargent, rep., California; Chaffee, rep., Colorado; Barnum, dem., Connecticut; Conover, rep., Florida; Gordon, dem., Georgia; Oglesby, rep., Illinois; Morton, rep., Indiana; Alison, rep., Iowa; Ingalls, rep., Kansas; McCreery, dem., Kentucky; Dennis, dem., Maryland; Bogy, dem., Missouri; Jones, rep., Nevada; Wadleigh, rep., New Hampshire; Conkling, rep., New York; Merrimon, dem., North Carolina; Matthews, rep., Ohio; Mitchell, rep., Oregon; Cameron, rep., Pennsylvania; Patterson, rep., South Carolina; Merrill, rep., Vermont; Howe, rep., Wisconsin. The Louisiana seat now in controversy becomes vacant in 1879. Of the outgoing Senators eighteen are republicans and six democrats.

Stephens Speaks.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, of Georgia, who arrived here last night, was asked by a reporter for the press to-day what he thought of the President's Southern policy and his reception in the South, to which question he replied: "There can be but one answer: his reception has been one quite as enthusiastic as ever before accorded a President in any part of the Union. What at Atlanta was a grand tribute from Georgians to a President whose administration has been in accordance with the constitutional principles of home rule. This was evidently the case in all sections of the South visited by him in his tour just finished. As to his policy—mind you, I don't call it his Southern policy—it has gained for him the cordial approbation of the people of Georgia and the South. He has made grand strides in doing away with the 'North and South' and in putting aside the barriers between the two sections and assuaging the bitter feelings engendered by the war. This must be very gratifying to him. His course so far receives my entire support and approbation. The reason that I object to the use of the phrase 'Southern policy' is that it gives a sectional aspect to the question. I prefer 'constitutional policy,' which accords with the great Jeffersonian Democratic doctrine of home rule and the settlement of questions."

"You think that President Hayes has done more for the Southern people than Mr. Tilden could have done?"

"I think that Mr. Hayes has done more for the pacification of the country, under the doctrine of home rule, than Mr. Tilden could have done had he been inaugurated."

"In the way of appointments what further steps do you think he can take towards such pacification?"

"He can do this: He can appoint a representative Southern man to the vacancy on the Supreme Court bench. The South has now no representative on that bench. Let him appoint to the position one of the South's ablest and truest men, and it will be another further grand step towards the accomplishment of the ends which he seems so earnestly to desire."

"Who in the South do you think would fill your bill?"

"Ex-Governor Herschel V. Johnson, of Georgia, by all means. He is, in my judgment, a head and shoulders above all whose name I have heard mentioned in connection with the office from the South and his appointment, I think, would give almost universal satisfaction throughout the Southern States, while it would receive the cordial indorsement of seven-tenths of the Northern Democracy."

A Proposition for Free Banking in Ohio.

The Legislature of Ohio at its last session passed an act to authorize free banking, which is to be submitted to a vote of the people at the coming election, and cannot, under the constitution, take effect unless approved by a majority of the voters. Its most important feature is contained in the following section:

"No banking company hereby authorized shall at any time issue or have in circulation any note, draft, bill of exchange, acceptance, certificate of deposit, or any other evidence of debt, which from its character, form or appearance shall be calculated or intended to circulate as money; and every violation of this section by any officer or member of a banking company shall be deemed and judged a misdemeanor, and be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court having cognizance thereof, as now provided by law."

A New Injunction—Still Grabbing.

[Asheville Citizen.]

As long as there is anything left of the Western North Carolina Railroad, we presume there will be parties to rise up with schemes for speculation and plunder. It was for so many years so fruitful a field for such outrages, and paid so well for genius devoted to that business, there are those who evidently still regard it as an interesting field for such labor.

T. D. Carter has this week filed a complaint in the Federal Court Clerk's office, at this place, in the nature of an application to the Judges of the Federal Court for injunctions, writs of relief, possession, and the Lord knows what all. The document is much longer than the road itself, and is filed in the name of one Mark Young, who, "for the purposes of this suit," represents the said Carter.

The document is already pointed, and charges fraud on everybody who ever had, or has, even the remotest connection with the road. The attorneys for the said "Young" alias Carter, are Mike Woods and one "General" Davis—from all accounts another "General Littlefield. The thing is gotten up at the expense of the foreign bondholders who are anxious to upset the claims of the Western Division to certain interests in Florida, thus cutting our road out of anything in that direction. It is a big thing on ice, but we opine too slippery to find a lodgment in any honest Judge's brain.

DRUGS.

DR TUTT'S PILLS

Meet the wants of those who need a safe and reliable medicine. The immense demand which has so rapidly followed their introduction is evidence that they do supply this want, and proves them to be ever furnished the American people. The highest medical authorities concede their superiority over all others, because they possess alterative, tonic, and healing properties contained in no other medicine. Being strongly Anti-Bilious, they expel all humors, correct a vitiated state of the system, and, being purely vegetable, they do not, like other pills, leave the stomach and bowels in a worse condition than they found them, but, on the contrary, impart a healthy tone and vigor before unknown.

OUR WORDS INDORSED

Dr. C. L. MITCHELL, Ft. Meade, Fla., says: . . . "I know the superiority of your pills, and want to see them used instead of the worthless compounds sold in this country." . . .

Rev. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky., says: . . . "Tutt's pills are worth their weight in gold."

Had Sick Headache & Piles 30 Years. . . . "I am well. Gaining strength and flesh every day." . . . R. S. Austin, Springfield, Mass.

He Defies Chills and Fever. . . . "With Tutt's pills, we defy chills. Illinois owes you a debt of gratitude." . . . F. R. Ripley, Chicago, Ill.

TO ALL MEN—A SPEEDY CURE.—The direful results of early indiscretion which renders marriage impossible, destroying both body and mind, general organic weakness, pain in the head or back, indigestion, palpitation of the heart, nervousness, timidity, tremblings, bashfulness, blushing, langour, lassitude, dyspepsia, nervous debility, consumption, &c., with those fearful effects of mind so much to be dreaded, loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self distrust, love of solitude, &c.

MARRIAGE.

Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, (loss of procreative power—impotency), nervous excitability, palpitation, organic weakness, nervous debility or any other disqualification, speedily relieved.

A SPEEDY CURE WARRANTED.

In recent disease immediate relief—no mercury. Persons ruining their health, wasting time with ignorant pretenders and improper treatment, driving disease into the system by that deadly poison, mercury, and causing fatal affections of the head, throat, nose or skin, liver, lungs, stomach or bowels, speedily cured. Let no false delicacy prevent you applying.

FOR SALE OR RENT.

GREAT BANKRUPT SALE

United States District Court—Eastern District of North Carolina—in the matter of the Bank of North Carolina, bankrupt.

In Bankruptcy.

At the court house door, in Raleigh, N. C., on Monday, November 12, 1877, commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m., I will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, the open book accounts, notes, judgments and other choses in action, the property of THE BANK OF NORTH CAROLINA, in bankruptcy, due from various persons and corporations throughout the State, and amounting in the aggregate to upwards of $200,000. Many of these claims are believed to be valuable, and the debtors will find this to be an excellent opportunity to purchase and settle their debts. Purchasers of judgments will be required to pay the cost of assignment of judgment.

By order of the District Court.

WANTED

AT CARY, NORTH CAROLINA,

A few enterprising, energetic men, with some capital to help build up one of the best manufacturing and trading towns in the State. We have two Railroads, making it a competing point for both Northern and Southern shipping, giving a great advantage over other points on the line of either Railroad, Anticipating the growth and business of the place I have made some very handsome improvements which I will sell very cheap, and on long time to enterprising parties. From 6,000 to 10,000 bales of cotton may be handled in trade every year.

No. 1 is a three-story brick building with tin roof, 40x120 ft; two large store rooms on first story. The two upper floors are well suited for a large Tobacco Factory; situated in 100 feet of the Chatham Depot.

No. 2 is a new three-story brick hotel, mansard roof with 14 rooms. Dining room 24x30; all elegantly finished. Situated in 200 feet of both railroads. Will rent or sell.

No. 3 is a commodious dwelling with 11 rooms, four of which are 20x20 feet; has a large cellar, a lawn of 1½ acres nicely shaded and set in grass, two large barns, two clover lots, orchard of nice fruits, vines and strawberries, containing 40 acres of well-improved land under a new plank fence.

No. 4 is a plot of 100 acres under a plank fence, lying on the N. C. R. R., for ½ mile, on which land is two elegant building sites.

No. 5 and 6 are situated in a beautiful grove of native forest trees, each with 7 rooms, smoke house, &c., and are very desirable residences; in 150 feet of the Chatham Railroad.

No. 7 is an elegant residence of 9 rooms on a beautiful wide street, 400 yards from the Railroad and near the academy. Lot may contain two, ten or twenty-five acres.

No. 8 is a comfortable cottage of 5 rooms adjoining the above lot, fronts same street, is on a nice lot of two acres. Large barn &c.

No. 9, 10, 11 and 12, are comfortable 2 room cottages on one acre lots, situated between the two R. Rs.

Any persons wanting houses in a healthy railroad village, where a nice paying business can be built up, would do well to come and see for themselves. If you like you can get any sort of time you desire.

The Demagogues.

Whom shall we have in "The People's Convention?"
Any played-out politicians you mention:
Men in the market who want to be bought,
Fellows whose services never are sought;
Chappies who talk about "smashing the rings"
And work for what price a good wire-worker brings;
The fellow whose record with office-spoils reeks,
And shrieks that it's high time to "put down the cliques:"
Vote jerkers,
Wire-workers,
Fellows who rant
At fellows who get in
And fellows who can't.
Men who won't work,
Fellows who shirk,
Leaders unchristian as any wild Turk;
Political pettifogs,
Dishonest demagogues,
Fellows who'd try for,
Angle for, sigh for,
Put out your eye for,
Bellow for, cry for,
Pretty near die for,
Grab for, apply for,
Swear for and lie for Office.

NEWS NOTES.

Gov. Garber, of Nebraska, estimates that every family that removes into Nebraska is worth at least $1,000 to the State.

A Mississippi paper wants Goode, or some other Southerner, elected Speaker, "as an offset to the poor penitent in the Cabinet."

A Springfield habitual "drunk and disorderly" plaintively appeals that Police Court fines be reduced to suit the exigencies of the times.

Gen. F. E. Spinner has been fishing in the Adirondacks. Notwithstanding his seventy-five years, he climbs mountains, walks, "camps out," and hunts with all the energy and vigor of youth.

Representative Swann, of Baltimore, says that he and Senator Bayard and other conservative Democrats in Congress are ready to assist President Hayes in his Southern and civil service policy.

Chief Justice Gray, of Massachusetts, goes to court like a Magistrate of colonial days. He rides in the saddle from Pittsfield to Boston—a distance of one hundred miles—and goes home in the same fashion when the court is over.

The Count Joannes (George Jones, editor of the New York Times) has applied for an injunction to restrain Mr. Sothern from playing "The Crushed Tragedian," on the ground that it is an infringement upon his (the Count's) right to his own personal identity.

A Brigadier General of the Spanish army in Cuba, Prince Louis Maria Francisco de Bourbon, cousin of the King of Spain, was privately married last Saturday at the French Church St. Vincent de Paul in New York. The bride is a beautiful lady from Guanabacoa, near Havana.

M. Victor Hugo's new book called "Histoire d'un Crime; Deposition d'un Temoin," was written at Brussels, in the Winter of '51-'52. M. Hugo was President of the Conseil de Resistance, and he here describes all that he did with his friends, and everything he saw, day by day, and hour by hour. It is said to be one of the most interesting and important works ever written by him—as dramatic as a romance, and as startling as the reality it describes.

On Wednesday Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, accompanied by General P. M. B. Young, of Georgia, called upon the President and urged the appointment of Herschel V. Johnson to the vacant seat on the Supreme bench. Mr. Stephens presented the claims of the South for that position, and declared that the appointment of Mr. Johnson would meet the approval of the people of this section. The President listened attentively, but his reply indicated nothing in regard to his intentions.

A story is told of an occasion twenty years ago when Ralph Waldo Emerson addressed a literary society during commencement at Middlebury, Vt. After he had ended the president called upon a clergyman to conclude the service with prayer. A Massachusetts minister stepped into the pulpit Mr. Emmerson had just left and uttered a remarkable prayer, of which this was one sentence: "We beseech Thee, O Lord, to deliver us from ever hearing any more such transcendental nonsense as we have just listened to from this sacred desk." After the benediction Mr. Emerson asked his next neighbor the name of the officiating clergyman, and when falteringly answered with gentle simplicity remarked: "He seemed a very conscientious, plain-spoken man," and went on his peaceful way.

The Round Dance.

[Philadelphia Chronicle.]

An intelligent lady in Washington, disgusted with the fashionable style of dancing, has shown moral courage enough to censure it, and exert her influence for its suppression. It is to be hoped that there may be others among the elite, with good sense and good taste enough to aid an effort to reform the grossness, indelicacy and immoral tendencies of the "round dance," and many other objectionable recreations which fashion sanctions, and which virtuously disposed ladies dare not resist.

Argument is not needed to condemn the many vices of fashionable society. No person who has the faintest idea of decorum can fail to perceive their debasing influences, and worthy persons condemn them, but what gay woman will dare resist the decrees of fashion?

In contemplating the distress, embarrassment of the times, and the many instances of disregard of good faith and manly honor which daily transpire, and which tend to unhinge the social fabric, and to debase the people, the thing we call "fashion" must not be overlooked.

Taking a sordid view of affairs, we shall see that hundreds of millions of capital are annually lost to this country, in consequence of the morbid desire to imitate the styles and vices of the fast people of Europe, and to indulge in their luxuries.

In this country we have no censor of public morals, and no generally recognized standard of honor, propriety and decorum; and customs, fashions and amusements, calculated to enervate mind and body, and to make men dishonest, venial and profligate, meet with no proper rebuke

While we boast of the glories of our "Great Republic," no manly ambition excites the young to energetic action for the accomplishment of anything worthy of great intellects, nor of a high-toned standard of virtue. Health, vigor of mind and body, honesty and love of justice, are sacrificed in efforts to gain wealth or position by smart tricks and impositions upon the credulity of ignorant and weak-minded people. Men occupying high social or political positions are not ashamed to let their intelligent neighbors know that they are thieves, rather than to live in moderate circumstances.

The great need of the time is a correct standard of true worth which will recognize it in humble circumstances, and which will condemn depravity when associated with ostentatious display and the power of wealth.

A nation, to become truly great, must excite in its people an ambition to do something which will elevate the individual and society in general. It is not by learning crafty tricks of trade, and by such means "making money," that anything noble will be accomplished, no matter how "smart" we may be.

Honesty, integrity, intelligence and manliness must be encouraged if we would save our country.

I have tried the Xanthine, and found it to be all it claims in restoring hair to its natural color and removing dandruff.
W. W. BENNETT.

(From Rev. Mr. Cameron, Minister of the Presbyterian Church South)

MOSSY CREEK, Tenn., August 22, 1876.
Xanthine Co., Richmond, Va.:

I have used the Xanthine now for three years, and have induced others to try it, and have never known it to fail in accomplishing all you claim for it. It is an excellent tonic a pleasant dressing, removing and preventing dandruff and all unpleasant itching, promoting and preserving the natural growth and color of the hair, and rendering it glossy and pliable. I confidently, cheerfully and knowingly recommend it.

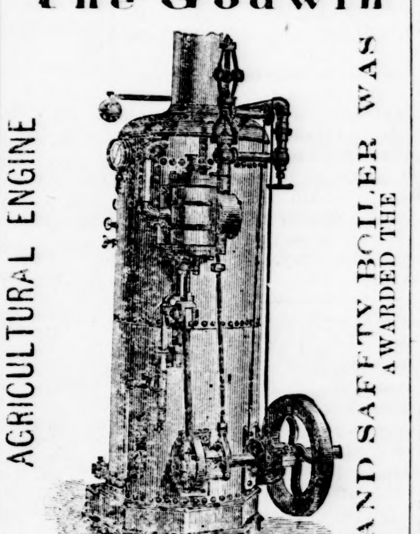
The Godwin



AGRICULTURAL ENGINE
AND SAFETY BOILER WAS AWARDED THE

First Premium at Roanoke & Tar River Agricultural Society, 1875. The Gold Medal, over all other competitors, at the North Carolina State Fair, in 1876.

It is the most perfect and economical in use. The Boiler is of new design, being vertical yet all the heating surface is entirely covered with water, thus preventing the fire from destroying the tubes as is the case, in a few years, in all upright tubular boilers in which the fire passes through the tubes above the water line, soon destroying the exposed end of the tubes causing them to leak.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Richard Jackus for disorderly conduct was fined in the Mayor's court $2 and costs, yesterday.

——The Governor yesterday appointed John C. Starkweather commissioner of affidavits for Washington, D. C.

——Rev. Mr. Gwaltney will occupy the Swain street Baptist Church to-day for the first time under pastoral charge.

——The breaking of a cogwheel of one of our presses on Friday night caused a delay which prevented getting out the whole of our western mail.

——Regular monthly meeting of Rescue Company to-morrow night, Oct. 1st at 8 o'clock sharp. Business of importance to come before the meeting.

——J. W. Taylor, Sheriff of Chatham, delivered two convicts to the penitentiary yesterday, both for larceny, one for one year, the other for three years.

——Two horses hitched to a wagon, dashed off from near Gattis & Jones grain and feed store and in rounding the corner at the State National Bank, smashed the wagon and went on their way rejoicing.

——Letters are held in the Raleigh post office for want of postage, directed to C. F. Harrington, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., and Gen. J. B. Littlejohn, Henderson, N. C.

——The plaintiff in the case now under investigation of Shaw against the Southern Underwriters' Association is not a resident of North Carolina, but of Chicago, Illinois.

——The regular Monday night meeting of the Raleigh Light Infantry will be held at Rescue Hall on Tuesday night next, Oct. 2nd, at 7:30 o'clock sharp. All members are hereby ordered to their gun and accoutrements.

——The excursion yesterday on the Air Line Railroad from Hamlet numbered some eight or ten hundred. Many of them had never been in Raleigh before, and seemed to be highly pleased with what they saw and heard. Pity the excursion had not been postponed until the Fair, and we suggest another at that time.

——T. G. McLean, Register of Alamance, sent to the Auditor yesterday his abstract of taxes, showing the total valuation of taxable property in his county to be $ ,124,311.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| General State tax, | | $3,138.63 |
| Special | " " | 3,186.47 |
| School | " | 3,812.87 |
| County | " | 11,424.69 |

Total paid by the county, $21,562.76

——The loss by the Goldsboro fire, as reported in the press telegram from Washington, Friday night, was about $40,000. From information received yesterday it appears that Messrs. John H. Powell & Son and G. S. Campbell & Co., are probably the only losers, the others being fully covered by insurance. But for the heavy rain at the time the fire would have proved very disastrous.

——The new store of Messrs. W. C. & A. B. Stronach, at Enniss' old stand, known as the North Carolina Bookstore, is open for customers. They have exerted their taste and skill to the utmost in arranging their large and attractive stock of fine and heavy family groceries as it is one of the most beautiful stores we have entered in a long time. They will have their announcement out in the next issue of the NEWS.

Movements of Cotton in Raleigh

Receipts for week ending September 7th, 1877, 69 bales; receipts for same week last year, 219. Decrease in receipts for week this year, 150. Receipts for week ending Sept. 14, 1877, 126; receipts for same week last year, 804. Decrease for the week this year, 678. Receipts for week ending Sept. 21, 1877, 213; receipts for same week last year, 1,095. Decrease in receipts for week this year, 882. Receipts for week ending Sept. 29, 1877, 832; receipts for same week last year, 2,390. Decrease in receipts for week this year, 1,558. Whole receipts for the month of Sept. 1877, 1,240; whole receipts for month Sept. 1876, 4,508. Receipts for month Sept. 1875, 4,099, Receipts for month Sept. 1874, 2,167. Receipts for month Sept. 1873, 983.

We have omitted our regular cotton reports for the past few weeks, but now give the receipts of the past few weeks and also the receipts for the same weeks last year, that it may be seen that the decrease in receipts has been through the whole month. It will be seen that there has been a heavy falling off in our receipts for the month of September as compared with the past three years. This heavy falling off in receipts has not been confined to our market alone, but the falling off has been about the same throughout the whole country, as will be seen from the comparative cotton statement from New York, published in the NEWS of yesterday. Our market closed active at 10¼ cts. for middlings.

Personal.

Rev. A. W. Mangum, of Chapel Hill, arrived in the city yesterday morning and is the guest of Mrs. Dr. W. G. Hill. He will preach the dedication sermon at Brooklyn M. E. Church as announced heretofore, this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

We are pleased to see Mr. R. B. Andrews, the old reliable clothier, at his place of business again, having returned from the Northern markets with a large stock of clothing, gents' furnishing goods &c.

Mr. J. C. Brewster, one of our prominent hardware merchants, arrived yesterday afternoon from a Northern purchasing tour.

Enlarged.

The NEWS of this city has been enlarged from a twenty-eight to thirty-two columns and is now the largest daily in the state. We are always pleased to chronicle the increasing prosperity of any of the craft.—Raleigh Register.

THE GREAT SUIT RESUMED.

Shaw Against Southern Underwriters' Association.

The Magistrate, A. Magnin Esq. took his seat at 12.40 P. M. and the case was resumed.

Counsel for the plaintiff withdrew the question of yesterday to which objection was made by the defendants counsel. The direct examination of Armistead Jones Esq. was resumed as follows:

Q. Were you acquainted with the condition of the assets of the company on the 4th of December, 1876?

Objection to the question was raised by the defense but withdrawn.

A. I suppose the securities before referred to were in the prosession of the company at the time; as to the business of the company from the time of the organization up to that time I can only speak generally.

Q. Please state whether any additional investments had been made since May 5th 1876 in mortgages on real estate, up to December 4th, 1876?

Objected to by defendant; objection sustained.

Q. What additional investments, if any, had been made by the company from May 5th, 1876, to December 4th, 1876?

A. There were some investments, as well as I recollect, and some re-investments, I think. The treasurer had the power to manage this matter, as well as I remember. I do not distinctly remember what was done by the treasurer.

Q. What other officer of the company did Dr. Blacknall consult in making these investments.

A. I do not recollect whether the special authority was given him by the directory or the executive committee; he had the power though; I do not know that he consulted especially with any one, he having had the power to act, given him, as I have said, by one of these bodies in the aggregate, as well as I remember.

Q. When the statement of May 5th 1876 was made, where was the cash on hand and the cash in bank—what evidences were exhibited, at that time, of this money, viz. $7,729?

A. I forget now the amount as shown to be in bank and the amount shown to be on hand; I was satisfied at the time, and so was the Secretary of State, that the representations made were true

Q. Where was the cash on hand—was it present or simply represented to be owned by the company?

A. I remember that the bank book was present and also other evidences to show the amount in the hands of the treasurer; I do not now remember the respective amounts specifically, I was, however, satisfied that the company had the money.

Q. What evidence was present to show the amount of money in the hands of the treasurer?

A. A statement of the treasurer as to all these matters was presented. I do not now remember that the money was shown to the Secretary of State.

Q. Was that statement of the treasurer sworn to?

Objected to by the defense, and after argument, the objection was overruled.

A. I think not.

Q. In what manner was the amount of cash in the hands of agents in course of transmission—$2,379.19—arrived at? (This question was at first put in a somewhat different form, was objected to, and after argument, was modified to the form in which it stands).

A. I think it was ascertained by summing up the amount from the books of the company.

Q. Can you explain how it happens that the item of $2,379.19, is the exact difference between the cash capital of the company—$150,000, and the total amount of assets reported—$152,379.19?

A. As well as I remember, this statement of the business done was made out by the Secretary of the company from the books of the company. The Secretary of State called for it, I think.

Q. Please explain, if you can, how the $2,379 19 appears as cash in the hands of agents in course of transmission, when only $1,665.44 appears as the total net cash income from premiums?

A. The act of the General Assembly of 1874-'75 requires a re-insurance reserve of 50 per cent., and that is charged up as a liability; the capital is also charged as a liability, as well as I remember.

Q. Can you tell why a schedule in detail, setting out each of the mortgages of real estate in which the company invested, was not furnished with the sworn statements of May 5th, 1876?

Objected to as assuming a fact not proved, and the objection was sustained.

Q. What schedule of mortgages was furnished with the statement of May 5th, 1876?

A. My recollection is, without seeing the identical statement—(here objection was raised by the defense against further answer to the question, on the ground that the original is in the hands of the Secretary of State, and not in the hands of the company, and the objection was sustained.)

Then, by agreement of counsel, the case was adjourned, to be resumed on three days' notice to the parties or their attorneys.

Justice Magnin's Court.

Bedy Jeffreys, a colored matron, sued out a warrant against her husband. John Jeffreys, charging the said John with beating and ill-treating her, "with force and arms, against the peace and dignity of the State," and furthermore charging him with neglecting to provide adequate support for her and her child. Bedy testified to sundry beatings and frequent starvings at the hands of her liege lord, while on the other hand there was cause for strong suspicion that she had not been as exemplary as she should have been, all of which John said he could prove if he had the witnesses. But John's derelictions were patent and so he was sent to jail for ten days, with the assurance that if he don't go to work when he gets out, he will be arrested for vagrancy and put in again. Bedy was cautioned to behave herself better hereafter, keep off the streets and go to work.

H. W. Bagwell took out a warrant yesterday against John G. Andrews of Auburn township for selling liquor, contrary to the statuate "in that case made and provided" within three miles of Ebenezer church in said township. The case will probably come up for a hearing on Monday or Tuesday. It is considered a sort of test case.

Fire Last Night.

At nine o'clock last night a fire was discovered in the rear part of a new frame dwelling on Newbern Avenue, belonging to W. C. McMackin. The house was unoccupied. It has just been finished, and would have been ready for occupation in a few days. Through the exertions of a number of energetic and public-spirited citizens and the fire department the flames were put out, with considerable difficulty, however, as the fire had made its way into the rafters. The house was considerably damaged; but it is covered by contractors' insurance. Betts & Allen are the contractors. The fire was evidently incendiary. There were no workmen about the house during the day. Suspicion rests upon no one, as yet.

Death of Mrs. Strudwick.

Intelligence was received in this city yesterday of the death of Mrs. Dr. E. Strudwick, of Hillsboro. She died at her residence in that town on Thursday, after a long and painful illness, at an advanced age, and was buried on Friday afternoon. She was highly esteemed and beloved by a wide circle of relatives and friends.

The Boston Atlas in 1837 advertised that "an experience of five years has demonstrated of Fairbanks' Scales that for accuracy, convenience and durability they are unrivaled." The Atlas and most of the men who made it are dead, but the Fairbanks' Scale, retaining and increasing its merits, has enlarged its domain until it has become the recognized standard of the world—all within the lifetime of its inventor.—N. Y. Evening Post.

For the Sick.

A large variety of the most highly recommended medicines constantly in stock. Wm. Simpson, Druggist, Raleigh, N. C. *

CAMP RUSSELL.

Letter from General Ruger.

HEADQ'ERS DEP'T OF THE SOUTH,
ATLANTA, GA., Sept. 26, 1877.

His Excellency the Governor of North Carolina,

SIR: I have the honor to inform you that I have received instruction from superior authority as follows:

"Application having been made by State authorities, the Secretary of War authorizes the temporary occupation of Raleigh Barracks, by the militia of North Carolina during the continuance of the State Fair in October, on condition that at end of said time the Barracks be turned over to the agent of the United States in as good condition as before being occupied."

The superintendent of the National Cemetery at Raleigh, Mr. George A. Dichtl, has immediate charge of the Barracks. He has been instructed on application from the State authorities to permit the use of the same under the conditions before stated.

Very Respectfully
Your Obedient Servant,
THOS. H. RUGER,
Colonel 18th Infantry
Brevet Brig. Gen'l U S. Army
Commanding.

Coles' Circus.

(Memphis Ledger.)

Yesterday morning dawned rather cold and chilly, although the vast spread of canvas on the bluff at the foot of Madison street announced to the crowd of expectant observers that at last W. W. Cole's Great New York and New Orleans Circus, Menagerie, Museum, Egyptian Caravan, Aquarium, Aviary, School of Gymnasia and Trained Animal Exposition of Wonders was here. Some were led to expect that the street parade would not be seen in all its glory; but nature smiled, and at last the clouds cleared away, and as the bright sun poured down it shone on the handsomest street display that any exhibition ever made in the streets of our city. The principal streets through which the procession passed were blockaded with spectators who were evidently amazed at the long line of gold and glitter, banners, flags and curiosities. Conklin's open den of performing lions was one of the principal features, while the Hindoo Zinga in his plate glass den of writhing serpents, the chariot of Neptune and the steam organ were also extremely handsome and attractive. The display was unexpectedly excellent, and was an indication of the delightful performances which were witnessed in the afternoon and evening by vast crowds of sightseers, completely filling the large tents of the concern. The Menagerie is a costly collection of rare and splendid animals, and one where the student of zoology can pass hours pleasantly and profitably.

Mr. Cole introduces a rare curiosity—the mermaid or woman fish, eating and drinking under water in such a way as to almost lead one to believe she was amphibious.

This exhibition is something which every one should see, and seeing, be delighted. Mr. Cole has exhibited a great deal of energy in putting such an elegant show on the road, and an appreciation of what the people want these hard times by reducing his prices to the nominal sums of fifty and twenty-five cents. After two more exhibitions here he will journey through Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas, Texas, etc., and there give our rural brethren a chance of enjoying the rare treat which he has presented us here. In fact every point was complete and thorough in finish and detail.

From Washington.

Col. W. E. Anderson, R. H. Bradley, Jack R. Williams, W. A. Porter and some others, who formed the party from Raleigh to Beaufort, heretofore mentioned, returned Friday morning, having spent a delightful sojourn at the seaside, and caught 3,467 blue fish and mackerel, which were duly barreled and are now on the way to Raleigh.

Tinware and Sheet Iron

Manufactured and repaired. Roofing of tin put on in the best manner by skilled workmen and none but the best material used. Julius Lewis & Co., Tin Roofers and Hardware Merchants, Raleigh, N. C.

Save the Difference.

It is conceded by the farmers generally that from 100 to 200 per cent. is saved by buying the chemicals and making your fertilizers. My formula has been thoroughly tested for several years, and has universally given splendid results. It is excellent for fall wheat. Wm. Simpson, Druggist, Fayetteville street, Raleigh, N. C. *

Cotton is King.

And so it is with our celebrated Cotton King Cook Stove. We guarantee all we sell, both as to durability and unequaled baking qualities. Prices very low. J. C. Brewster, hardware, sash, doors and blinds, Raleigh, N. C.

The Verdict

of many thousand housewives has been rendered in favor of the Cotton King Cook Stove, as the most durable and best Cooking Stove in use. J. C. Brewster, Gen'l Agent, Raleigh, N. C. *

No house in the city can sell goods at lower price than we. Zacharias & Co., Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes. *

Gouraud's Olympian Cream

commends itself to young and old alike as the most natural, effective and harmless embellisher and preservative of youth. Price reduced to One Dollar. F. H. Heartt, Agent, Raleigh, N. C. 26

Dr. Alexander Long.

This aged and highly-respected citizen died at his residence in Salisbury, on the 24th instant. His life was so long, so usefully spent, and so distinguished by excellent qualities, that his departure is worthy of more than the usual brief announcement.

He was born in Rowan county, five miles north-east of Salisbury, on the 23rd of October 1789. He was, therefore, nearly 88 years old at the time of his death. As he grew towards manhood he was sent to the academy of the oldest of the Bingham's, in the line of the Bingham School—the grand-father of Maj. Robert Bingham, the accomplished teacher of our day.

Dr. Long entered the University of North Carolina in the class that graduated in 1814; having for class-mates Aaron V. Brown, Charles L. Hinton, Charles Manly and others. From the University, in 1814, he went to Hillsboro, and pursued the study of medicine under the well-known Dr. Webb. While sojourning there he met, loved and married Miss Mary Williams, of Petersburg, Va. The wedding was on the 3d of June, 1815. Of this happy union thirteen children were born—eight of whom have already passed away. Of these, the one I knew best, Mrs. Helen Murphy, was one of the most beautiful models of womanly excellence that I have ever known. I cannot name a virtue which she did not appear to possess. Of the five who survive, two are sons; Capt. H. C. Long, of Chatham county, and Col. Thomas B. Long, so well-known in connection with the post-office department.

Mrs. Long, the devoted and exemplary wife of the Doctor, shared his duties and successes through half a century, cheered his heart with her lively and hopeful temperament into the valley of old age, and then quietly sank to her long repose.

Dr. Long, after completing his medical studies, spent one year in the practice of his profession in South Carolina, and another in Charlotte, N. C. He then returned, about 1819, to his native county, where he spent all of his protracted life. During the whole of his career he was popular, trusted and beloved. His fireside was always charming, from the genial and happy spirit which presided there. His home was attractive because of the winning courtesy and unselfish kindness which characterized it. In social intercourse the good Doctor revealed the rare and noble quality of delighting to impart pleasure to all whom he met. As a physician he became very prominent in all his part of the State. His confiding patrons sought him still, after age had admonished him to retire from the field of practice. In the days of his strength he was an active, public-spirited, liberal citizen. He took great interest in all enterprises for the public benefit. He was a man of strong, practical sense, unflagging energy and commendable aspiration. He was truly benevolent and generous. He made a most honorable record, privately as well as professionally, in the work of charity. He was not a cold-hearted moralist. He trusted in Jesus and embraced the truly rational plan of service to his God. He was one of the founders of the Rowan Bible Society. He was also one of the founders of the Salisbury Presbyterian church. He was an elder in that church for more than half a century. He held his profession honorably and faithfully to the last. He leaves to those who cherish the consolation of knowing that in his youth and manhood he served his God, and in his gray hairs and feebleness that God did not forget or forsake him.

The last years of his life were spent in quiet retirement, amid the tender offices of his kind friends and devoted relatives. He maintained his wonted hopefulness and vivacity almost to the last. His company was always a charm to the young as well as to those of riper years. His heart never grew old. His soul was blessed with the grace of smiling sweetly and richly through the trying years of age. He really seemed to have a conscience void of offence toward God and man. Of him it may well be said: "The hoary head is a crown of glory," for it was found in the way of righteousness.

When in his last years the present lost its influence upon him, his memory reproduced the scenes and companions of his college days, and he spoke with youth-like interest of what he was, and saw, and did at the old University sixty years ago. He was delighted when he knew that the institution was reinstated in its great work. He won the victory in the last battle of the last campaign. All's well forever, we trust, to the faithful and noble old servant of God. May his example, his virtues be sanctified unto the everlasting good of all his family and friends who survive him!

COMMITTEE ON WAKE DOCKET.

Ordered by the Judge presiding in the Courts of the Sixth Judicial District, that the following members of the bar of Wake county be appointed to make a calendar of cases for trial in the Superior Court of Wake county at the fall term, 1877: Messrs. D. G. Fowle, R. H. Battle, Jr., C. M. Busbee, S. A. Ashe, E. G. Haywood, W. N. H. Smith, A. M. Lewis and John Gatling. And that the committee arrange the cases in the order in which they come upon the civil issue docket, so as not to displace those entitled to be tried. The rule being that that portion of the calendar not finished on the day assigned, be taken up in their order the next day.

That the calendar be delivered to the clerk to be published in such manner as may best give notice to parties and witnesses.

ALLMOND A. McKOY,
Judge Superior Court of N. C.

The members of the committee will please meet at the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court on Monday, October, 1st, at 12 M.
